

AGED 14-17? JUSTICE EXPERIENCED?

Justice experienced means having contact with the justice system, now or in the past:

- being stopped and/or arrested by Police
- going to a children's hearing for offences
- attending court for offences
- receiving support for offending

The Challenging Justice Inequalities Project wants to learn from you. Could you be part of our Youth Advisory Group (YAG)?

1

be part of a group of 10 children and young people who will meet regularly in Glasgow city centre

2

help researchers understand more about what affects people's experiences of the justice system (for example age, race, poverty, sexuality, gender, disability)

3

learn about research and help the researchers design and carry out a research project with other children and young people

receive compensation for your time and help to produce guidance for people who work in the justice system
